Effective ECEC Policies and Practices for Canada:

A Literature Review

This could be the resource you are looking for.....

Early Childhood Education and Care (ECEC) has become an increasingly important issue. In Canada and internationally there is an emerging emphasis on the importance of providing high quality ECEC programs for children in the years before they enter kindergarten (age 5). The Thematic Review provides a comprehensive review of what ECEC systems look like in 20 OECD countries. It offers country-specific recommendations and highlights best practices in program design and delivery. Successful programs, locally and nationally, have increasingly been highlighted to advocate the benefits of investing in public programs for 3-and 4-year-olds. The last ten years have shown the need for Canada to develop a coordinated and adequately funded approach to ECEC programs
